DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1,2,4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Edwards et al (US 5,769,045) in view of Holtsmark (US 5,143,408).

Edwards et al show everything except for variable size connector connecting different diameter pipes. Holtsmark discloses variable size connector connecting different diameter pipes as shown in Figs. 3 and 4. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to modify Edwards et al by employing variable size pipe connector connecting different diameter pipes in order to design the variable size connector (60) connecting different diameter pipes as taught by Holtsmark.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Edwards et al (US 5,769,045) in view of Holtsmark (US 5,143,408) as applied to claims 1,2,4 above, and further in view of Hanzawa et al (US 4,800,985). Hanzawa et al discloses connector 32 is made of rubber. See col. 4, lines 42-45. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to further modify Edwards et al by employing rubber connector in order to design the connector (60) made of rubber.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 5 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
